

Personal Trainer

Job Description

Fitness trainers and instructors lead, instruct, and motivate individuals or groups in exercise activities, including cardiovascular exercises (exercises for the heart and blood circulation), strength training, and stretching. They work with people of all ages and skill levels.

Personal fitness trainers design and carry out workout routines specific to the needs of their clients. They may work with individual clients or teach group classes. In larger facilities, personal trainers often sell their training sessions to gym members. They start by evaluating their clients' current fitness level, personal goals, and skills. Then, they develop personalized training programs for their clients to follow, and they monitor the client's progress.

Employment Outlook

Employment of fitness trainers and instructors is projected to grow 8 % from 2014 to 2024, about as fast as the average for all occupations. Earning potential for a Personal Trainer in the area is approximately $44,670. As businesses, government, and insurance organizations continue to recognize the benefits of health and fitness programs for their employees, incentives to join gyms or other types of health clubs are expected to increase the need for fitness trainers and instructors.

Admission Requirements

Students must be 18 years of age and have a high school diploma or GED to enroll in this course. There are no physical requirements for the Personal Trainer Program. However, during the practical exam students are required to demonstrate learned techniques. If a student cannot demonstrate the physical techniques for their practical, they must be able to verbally cue and cover each detail.
