

Medical Interpreter

Job Description

Medical Interpreters work at hospitals, schools, clinics, mental health facilities and doctors' offices. They can also work as independent contractors for the many agencies both local and nationwide. At hospitals, interpreters are required to work in a variety of departments in order to facilitate communication between patient and provider. As independent contractors, interpreters may work on-site, from home as over-the-phone interpreters, or Video Remote Interpreters:

- On-Site Interpreting (OSI): Interpreters are physically present at the location of the assignment and are therefore able to both see and hear the parties they interpret for.
- Over-the-Phone Interpreting (OPI): Interpreters speak with the designated parties only by phone and are therefore unable to see them. OPI requires strong listening skills without the aide of visual cues.
- Video Remote Interpreting (VRI): Interpreters use a camera and microphone to communicate with the designated parties. VRI enables the interpreter to both see and hear the speakers, and to pick up on non-verbal cues which are missed with OPI.

Employment Outlook

Globalization and large increases in the number of non-English-speaking people in the United States will drive employment growth. Medical interpreters that are employed full-time earn a median annual salary of $52,330.

Admission Requirement

Students must be 18 years of age and have a high school diploma or GED to enroll in this course.

Students participating in this program must:

Be fully bilingual in English, as well as a second language.
